Subject: Hyundai begins production at its new Russian facility

Hello,

Wanted to let you know that Hyundai officially began production at its new St. Petersburg, Russia, facility today.

The first car being produced at the facility is the Solaris model, a sedan with innovative features designed specifically for the Russian climate. The Russian Solaris model also offers options seen for the first time in a value-class vehicle in the Russian market, including an engine start button, keyless access, Bluetooth and six airbags.

Hyundai's St. Petersburg plant, the company's first production facility in Russia, was completed in August 2010 and employs 1,300 workers.

Please let me know if you have any questions or would like more information on Russia's growing auto market.

Best,
Anna
